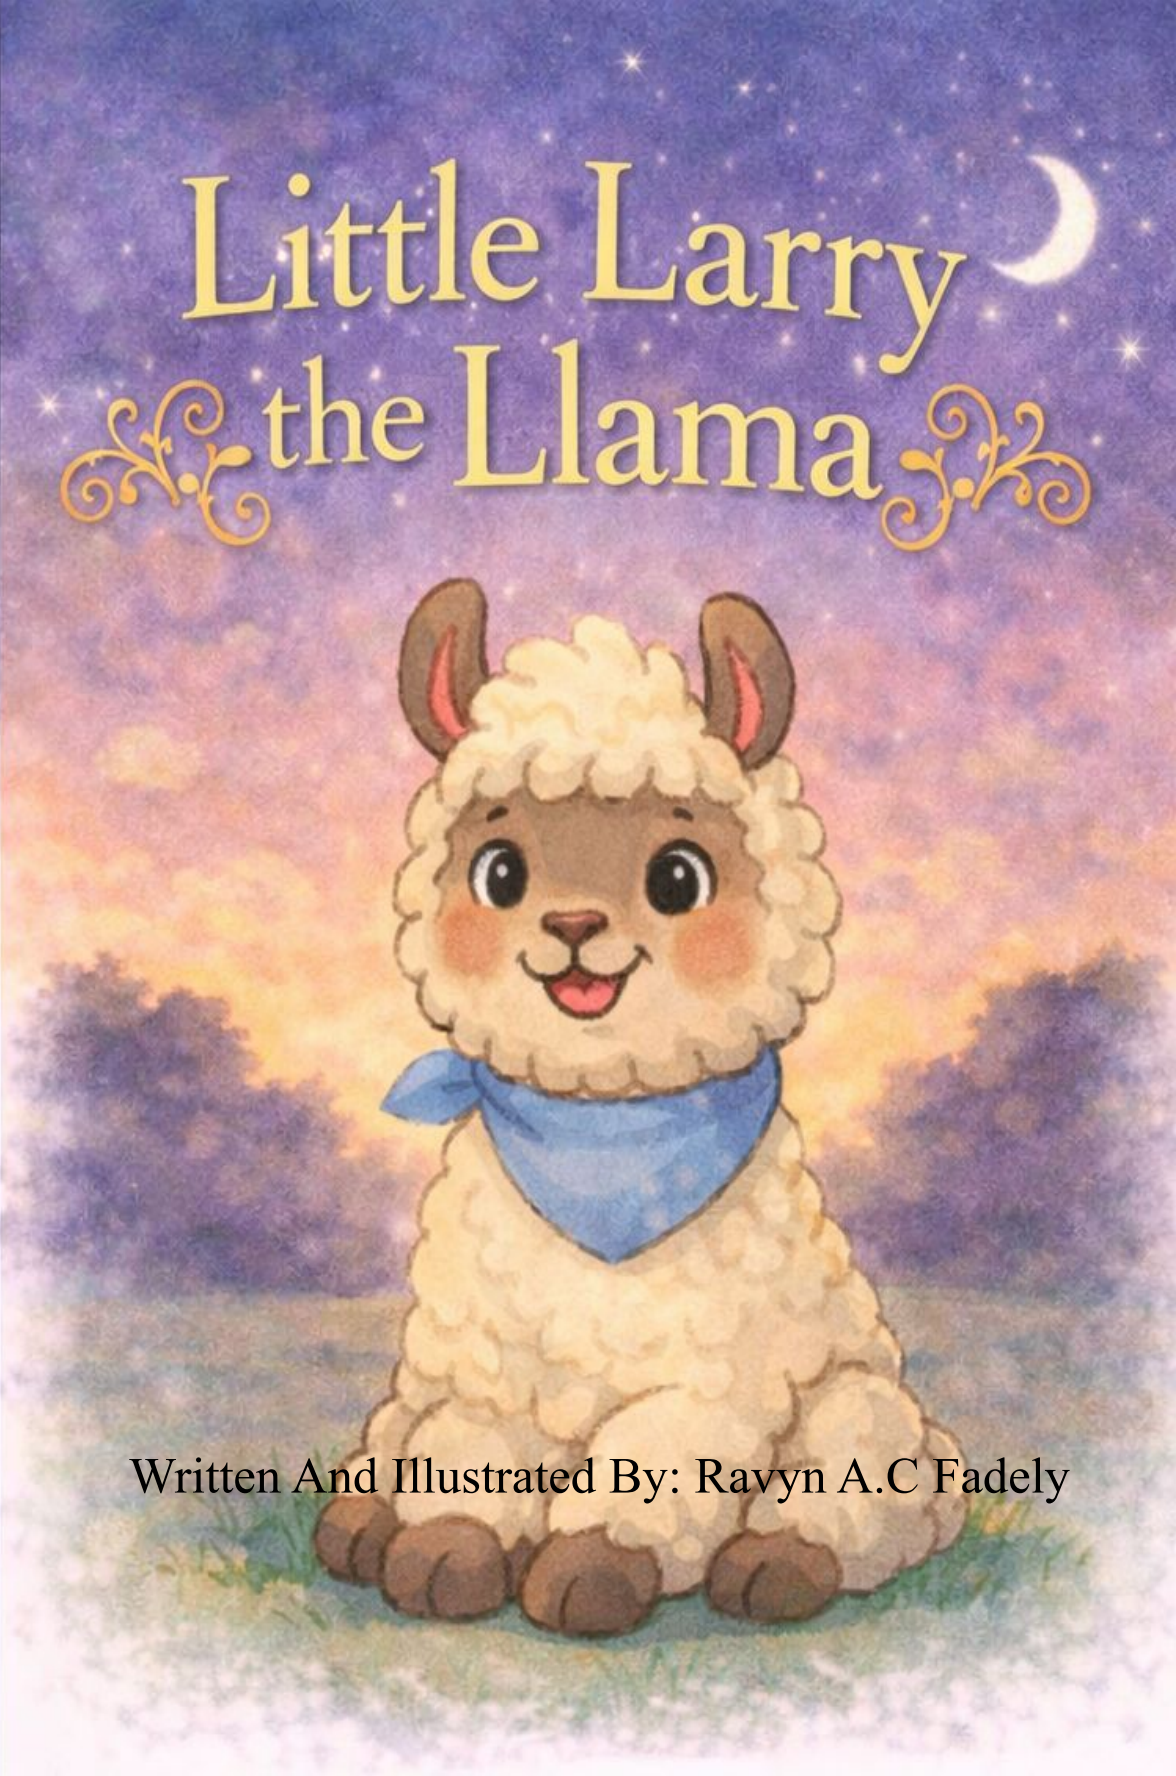
Little Larry the Llama



Written And Illustrated By: Ravyn A.C Fadely

To My Little Man

From Daddy

This is little Larry the llama.

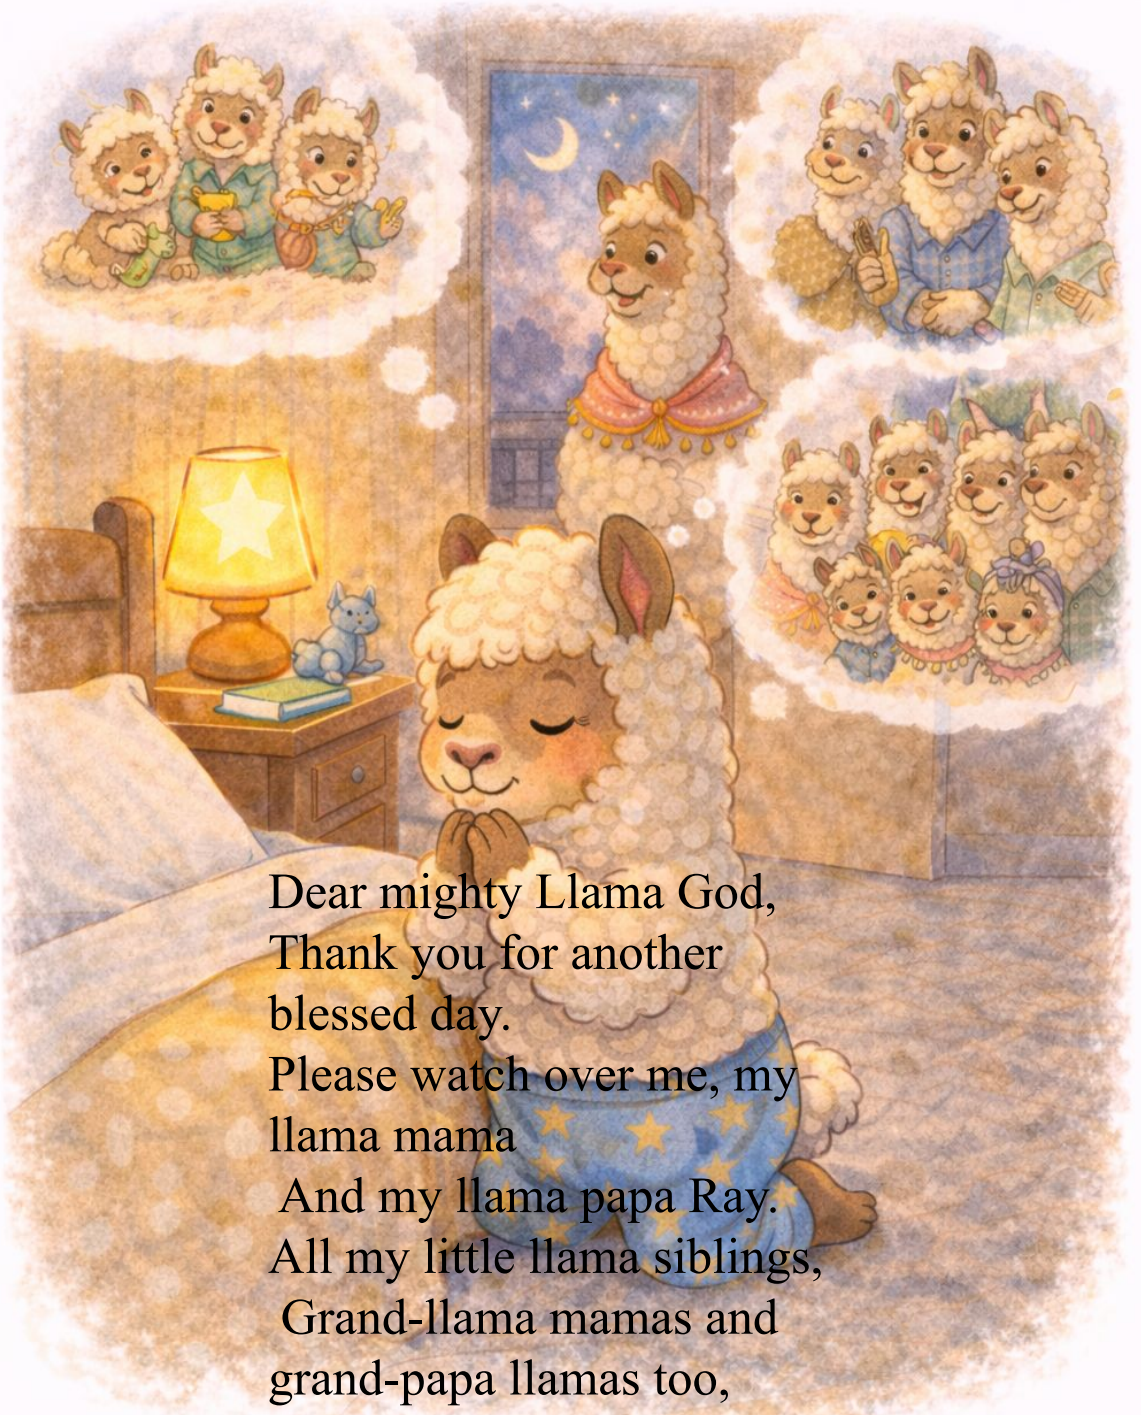
And little llama Larry’s off to bed.

Little llama Larry brushed his teeth,

And then he washed his head.

Before he goes to sleep,
This goofy, silly little llama.
Likes to dress up like a monster,
And chase his llama mama and his papa!

To the room and into the bed,
It’s time for little llama prayers.



Dear mighty Llama God,
Thank you for another
blessed day.
Please watch over me, my llama mama
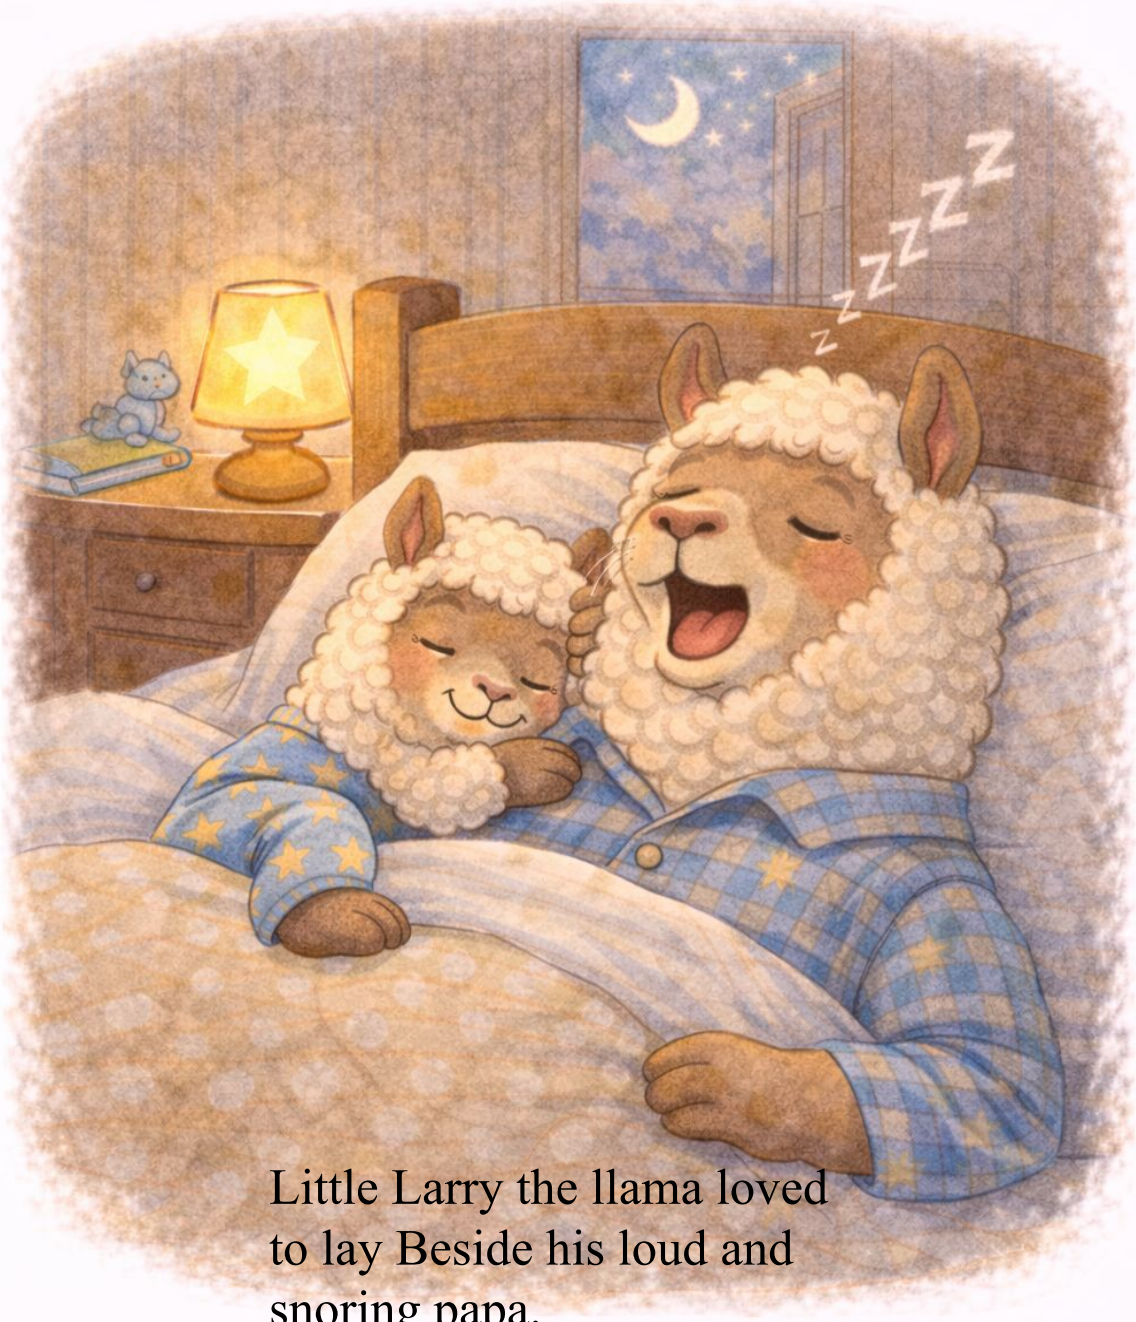
And my llama papa Ray.
All my little llama siblings,
Grand-llama mamas and
grand-papa llamas too,
All my fami-LLAMAS and
my friends
— Amen, I love you.

And little Larry llama,
after little llama prayers,
Gives his llama mama and papa
Lots of llama love to share.

They read a little llama bedtime story,
While little llama Larry plays with mama llama's hair.



Little Larry the llama loved to lay Beside his loud and snoring papa.

Mama llama snuggles close— She loves her little baby Larry llama.

Little llama Larry lets out a little llama yawn.

The silly little llama monster is tired singing sleepy songs.

His little llama eyes get heavy, His breathing slows in speed.

He cuddles up his favorite blankie And the toy he loves to keep.

Though Then it’s off to little llama land Where all the little llama dreams all go to be

The End
